

Andrew Chandler

I was delighted to become a Community Governor at Edmondsley from the start of the 2020 / 2021 academic year.

I grew up in South Africa, teaching there for the first eight years of my career before moving to the UK at the end of 2001. Since then my teaching career has taken me from London to North Yorkshire then Leeds and now I am the Deputy Head of The Chorister School and also teach Maths to predominately Year 7 and 8.

I am privileged to work within the Durham Cathedral complex, a World Heritage Site.

In my spare time I am an enthusiastic but hopeless golfer and a big fan of rugby, especially the team from my hometown of Durban, the KZN Sharks.

Since starting out as a Governor at Edmondsley, I have already learnt a huge amount about the school, and am sure to learn a lot more. I hope to be able to use my experience in education to support the school community and look forward to getting to know everyone.
