

Edmondsley Primary School

Becoming a Well-rounded Citizen and Learner

Subject: PSHCE and SRE
Intent	Implementation	Impact
At Edmondsley Primary School, it is our intent that all children will be 'lifelong learners' with the confidence and ability to develop their skills and understanding when having new experiences, meeting new challenges and finding themselves in unfamiliar situations. We share a cohesive vision to help children to understand and value how they and others fit into and contribute to the world through discussion and enquiry. We have an assertiveness on, building resilience and nurturing mental and physical health through the delivery of a programme of engaging and relevant PSHCE within a whole school approach. We also promote and practise developing children's understanding of relationships by guiding children	PSHE at Edmondsley Primary School is implemented using our own programme of study, which is a whole school approach that follows advice and guidance from the PSHE Association. Progression in skills and knowledge is outlined in the PSHCE progression grid with the curriculum being delivered through whole- school assemblies, discreet PSHCE lessons and specific focussed days/celebrations. The six topics covered link to our school promise and the needs of our children. These are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What's New? • Me and My Community • Everyone Aims High At Edmondsley • Strive To Be The Best I Can Be • I Is In United, Teamwork's The Prize • What's Next? Learning in each topic then takes place during weekly whole-class lessons which explore the different themes. These themes are also embedded through all other lessons and the whole school day with everyone supporting and encouraging the children they interact with to use the	Our Recent Ofsted Report highlighted that: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Staff provide sensitive guidance to pupils who needed some extra support. This nurturing and inclusive approach is helping all pupils be successful. 2. Pupils receive guidance to help them know how to look after their physical and mental needs 3. Teaching of personal, social and health education is well planned and delivered. 4. A range of roles help pupils develop citizenship skills. For example, pupils can be a member of the school council, a reading ambassador and a sports leader. 5. Staff nurture pupils' social and emotional needs well.

We strive for children to understand and appreciate differences and diversity in our community. Our approach develops the qualities and attributes children need to thrive as individuals, family members and members of society and the global community.	skills they are developing and to make links to other areas of learning. Our PSHCE programme deals with the diverse beliefs, values and attitudes that individuals and societies hold. It helps pupils to develop themselves, their understanding of the world, and their ability to communicate their feelings. Insert squirrel pledges here Children at Edmondsley Primary also acquire an understanding and experiences of British values that are necessary if they are to make sense of their experiences, value themselves, respect others, appreciate differences and feel confident and informed as a British citizen. They are given opportunities to make a difference to whole-school life by applying for roles such as School Councillor, Sports Organising Crew or Travel Ambassador.	Other impacts include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The impact of following this programme is that the standards of attainment across the school meets or exceed the knowledge and skills which are expected of our children nationally. • We continuously assess the implementation and impact of our PSHE curriculum in order to achieve the highest outcomes possible across all year groups. We ensure we provide the support that is necessary for all children to achieve and teachers to deliver first-quality teaching. • Through our PSHE curriculum, we enhance children's education and help them to become caring, respectful, responsible and confident individuals and citizens.
